KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Elana Habib is a Public Health Specialist at Alaska's DHSS Office of Substance Misuse and Addiction Prevention. Her primary role is to strategically plan, implement, and evaluate opioid-related misuse and addiction prevention systems interventions across the state. In this role, she has coordinated over 30 projects within a variety of professional disciplines to address the opioid epidemic. Previous experience of working in a tribally operated and owned organization as well as living in three countries and traveling to 36 countries have given a strong sense of the importance of relationship-building and seeing the world from multiple lenses. Elana received her Bachelor of Arts from Indiana University in International Health Administration and her Master of Public Health from University of Michigan in Health Behavior & Health Education. She recently became the proud new mother of baby Lillian.
